

Members Code of Conduct

As a member of The Abdominal Therapy Collective, I commit to:

- Be empowered to use my voice to support the mission and values of The Abdominal Therapy Collective.
- Work within my scope of practice and within the legal requirements of my country or state.
- Treat all clients, students and colleagues with compassion and respect, regardless of race, creed, or color.
- Keep my insurance and license up to date in accordance with the standards of my governing body within my country.
- Keep client notes in accordance with the Data Protection Act in Europe, and HIPPA, if applicable in USA.
 - In paper form, this will be in a secure place, preferably locked.
 - Online form, this will be password protected and backed up.
- Provide a high standard of care by continuing my education.
- Referring to fellow professional colleagues where appropriate, seeking advice and support from peers when in doubt.
- Maintain client/patient confidentiality.
- Be aware of my own needs and seek support or supervision when appropriate.
- Members must uphold this Code of Conduct with good will.
- I agree not to teach ATC's Abdominal Therapy techniques within a group or public setting. This includes online demonstrations of Your Abdominal Massage (YAM) for public groups, and those individuals who haven't completed ATC's Your Health Story or other in-depth intake/health questionnaire. I understand that only approved ATC Educators are allowed to teach this work in a group or class setting.
- I agree not to teach ATC's Wisdom of Water, Plants and Prayers (WWPP) techniques within a group or public setting. This includes online demonstrations for public groups, and those individuals who haven't completed ATC's Your Health Story or other in-depth intake/health questionnaire or conducted La Platica. I understand that only approved ATC Educators are allowed to teach this work in a group or class setting.

To ensure the integrity of this work and the safety of my clients, no video/audio recording of YAM or WWPP techniques should be published without written license from the ATC, Inc.

Any violation of this Code of Conduct is grounds for discipline up to and including termination of your right to ATC, Inc. membership.

I have read, understood, and agree to follow ATC, Inc. Code of Conduct.

All these requirements are subject to change by ATC, Inc., without notice.
